

Augmentative and Alternative Communication

Consultations - Evaluations - Therapy

What is AAC?

All forms of communication (other than oral speech) that are used to express thoughts, needs, wants, and ideas.

Who can benefit?

- Children who are not yet talking
- Children who produce oral speech but are not clearly understood
- Children who produce oral speech but cannot adequately express their underlying thoughts and ideas due to language delays

What is LAMP?

Language Acquisition through Motor Planning is a therapeutic approach based on neurological and motor learning principles.
